Circular

As part of our ongoing commitment to attain academic excellence, we are dedicated to providing every opportunity for our faculty members to upgrade their competence and knowledge in every possible manner. With this goal in mind, the management of the institute is pleased to announce that we will be reimbursing the membership fees for the Computer Society of India (CSI) to all faculty members who have already taken its membership by remitting the required annual fees of Rs. 1180.00.

We kindly request that all faculty members who have already taken membership with CSI to submit their certificate of memberships to IQAC so that proper cheques equal to their fees of Rs. 1180.00 may be made and disbursed as a gesture of goodwill.

Furthermore, we encourage all faculty members to take advantage of the facilities provided by CSI to its legitimate members under their domain. We believe that this will help in the pursuit of academic excellence and the development of our faculty members' competencies.

Guidelines for Research Promotion Activities

Prologue

Writing research papers has, of late, become an integral part of academic curriculum for the faculty members of every domain. The skills which are developed from writing a research paper cannot be acquired and upgraded from other academic writings. These skills which are developed from writing a research paper will help in achieving academic success for every faculty member of every stream.

Writing a research paper helps in developing or improving reading skills. It helps in developing reading for critical evaluation not just for the purpose of knowledge but helps in developing reasoning skills as well. It provides opportunities to read articles or books to collect sources for your research paper. It helps you think differently and think out of the box when read something related to your work. Finally, researchers develop the skill of making conclusion from what is read and develop the knack for asking the question from whether you agree with it or not.

Writing is essential to the completion of a research paper and hence it helps researchers to develop good writing skills. Writing a research paper helps in understanding the process of scientific discovery and then how to document that finding.

Writing a research paper gives a sense of achievement. Writing a good research paper will help to get prestige and good credentials amongst the colleagues and fraternity.

Researcher knows about the topic which is selected for research paper and this improves knowledge about that topic. It further explores opportunity to learn how to build up knowledge about any topic by exploring, synthesizing and evaluating it.

Researcher also learns to use electronic and non-electronic sources to do research. There is various software which are used in writing a research paper with the statistical tools back-ups. Researcher learns to use them and to take his/her professional academic career to the next level. Researcher also learns to use journals and books in the research paper writing and data collection methodology along with the process of citation and acknowledgment.

Therefore, writing research paper is sine-quo-none for every teaching faculty member for the benefit of academic and professional growth.

Prerequisite

Mangalmay Institute of Engineering & Technology – Greater Noida, in the pursuit of its up-gradation to take to the institute to the next level insists strongly its faculty members to initiate research papers writing to further improve their academic skills and competence for the benefits of the students and institute as well. The institute has taken several motivational initiatives to encourage faculty members in this regard and the some of which are encapsulated hereunder. The institute believes that the true academic acumen shall be acquired through this process for the overall growth of the faculty members and explore the latent wisdom of the teaching fraternity to achieve the vision of the institute's motive.

These are some of the Incentives Institute declares to all researcher faculty members of the institute as a token of respect and encouragement.

It is mandatory that all the research papers will be under the banner and logo of MIET only to stand eligible for any incentive. In any case, no stand-alone or individual research paper by any researcher faculty member shall be entertained by the Research Committee in any manner.

1. At the outset, institute expects from its all teaching faculty members to write minimum one research paper in each semester to prove their sincerity towards academics and to get the further escalation in their professional career.
2. To ascertain the implementation of the aforementioned task, institute forms a committee of three to four senior most members with the specific responsibilities, which are mentioned in the subsequent Para in this manual.
3. The institute announces the following motivational incentives to researcher faculty members. The researcher faculty members are expected to comply with the following norms in order to stand eligible for the incentives as declared by the institute.
 - A. Researcher Faculty Member will have to obtain approval by the Research committee members of his/her specific domain before starting the work on his/her topic of research.
 - B. Once the Research Committee Members give their consent and approve the topic, then only the respective researcher faculty member may start his/her work as per the norms thus shall be provided to him/her by the Research Committee for the timely appraisal of the work done.
 - C. It shall be the commitment of the researcher faculty member to provide the status report to the Research Committee on fortnightly basis in accordance to the guidelines as annexed herewith.
 - D. The Research Committee shall hold a common joint presentation session of all research faculty members on fortnightly basis to ascertain the authenticity of the completion of the work done by the respective faculty members and veracity of the contents collected by the researcher faculty members in support of their topics.
 - E. It will be mandatory for every researcher faculty member to write their research paper in the pre-approved format only by the Research Committee.

4. Incentives to the researcher faculty members

Research Appraisal Committee

Prologue

Research Appraisal Committee of Mangalmay Institute of Engineering and Technology – Greater Noida, is established with a forthwith rights and view to appraise and review the authenticity of the research work in the specific domain of the researcher. This committee will critically appraise and review the work of the researcher on the line whether a research study/ article/ research paper/ patent/ copy right/ book review or writing of the books etc. is trustworthy, relevant and impactful.

Basically, the committee will check every work of the researcher on some set and pre-formed determined parameters. The committee will ensure whether or not the research is valuable enough to bring changes for the good in existing practices or consider in future research projects as a valuable reference.

These parameters may be as under:

1. Spirit of the research work with which the researcher is engaged without adopting unethical means,
2. Search for the required references and cross-checking of the same,
3. Evaluation of the evidences under plagiarism and copyrights infringement or violation etc,
4. Integrate the provided evidences with the preferences and values,
5. Evaluate the outcomes.
6. Suggest the honorarium to the researcher as per his/her work according to the approved norms.

Beside above, the committee will undertake the additional tasks before extending its recommendations to the management authorities with their remarks:

1. Why was study done by the researcher?
2. What was the sample size and whether it represented the total population?
3. Did the tools which have been applied valid to derive a conclusive result?
4. Were the statistical tests appropriate to the study which have been designed by the researcher?
5. Are the conclusions drawn backed with the data?
6. Amount spent on the research by the researcher?
7. Who were the main beneficiary from the research,
8. How the research will contribute in society need and development.
